"In battle, in the forest, at the precipice in the mountains,
On the dark great sea, in the midst of javelins and arrows,
In sleep, in confusion, in the depths of shame,
The good deeds a man has done before defend him"

My first useless web page was inspired by the movie Ex Machina. Design elements and atmosphere were reflections of scenes in the movie. The landscape gives the over all look keeping it minimal and a focus point.

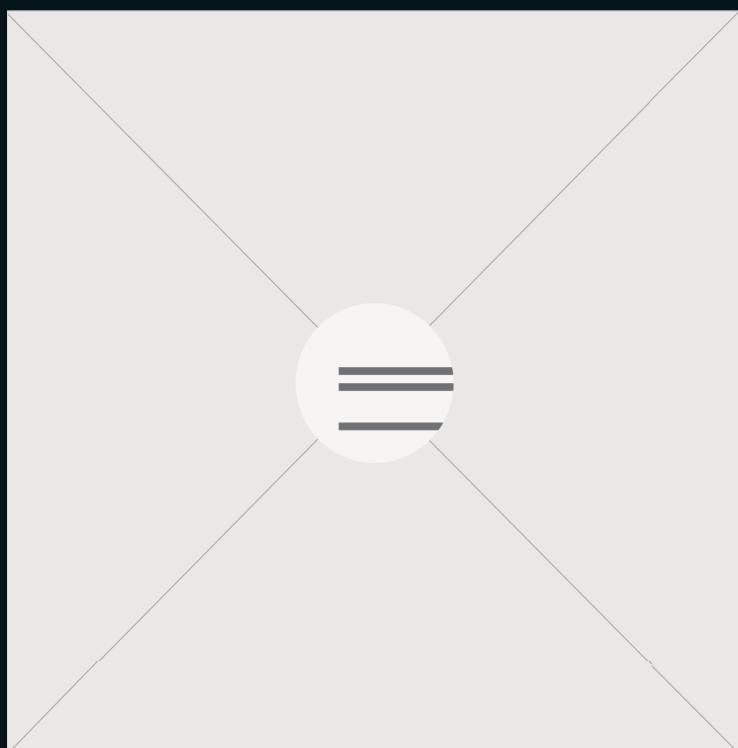

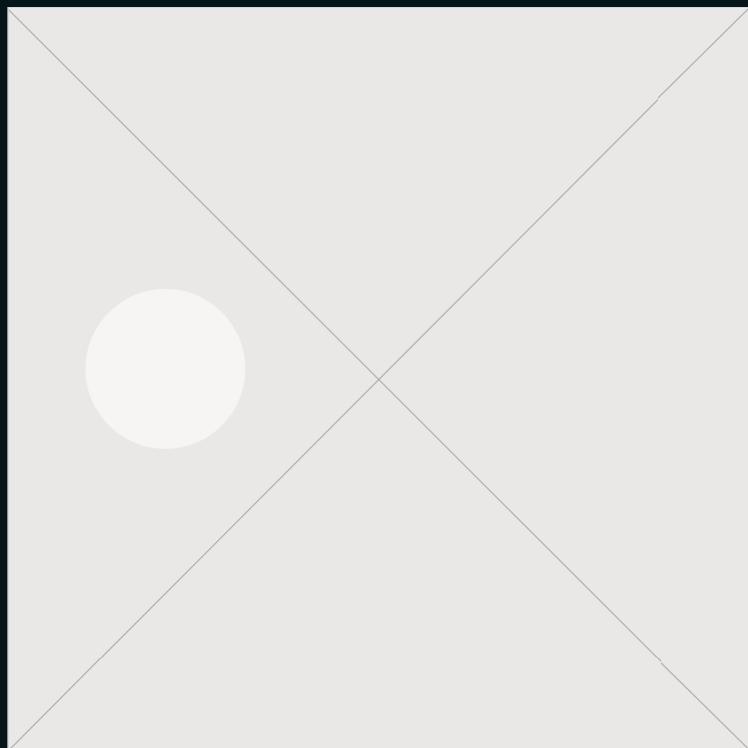

The interactive part in the page comes with a mouse move revealing hidden text. The text being a reference to literature of the scientist Oppenheimer, "father of the Atomic Bomb". quoted Oppenheimer when saying :

"I am become Death, Destroyer of Worlds".

Second design element comes also with a mouse move the background shifts as you move your cursor.

Sticking to the theme of “useless” my next page was inspired by society’s warped image of a man. Generally traits that do not make a man is what I am aiming for.

Over all theme inspired by the 70’s and retro/ tech illustration.

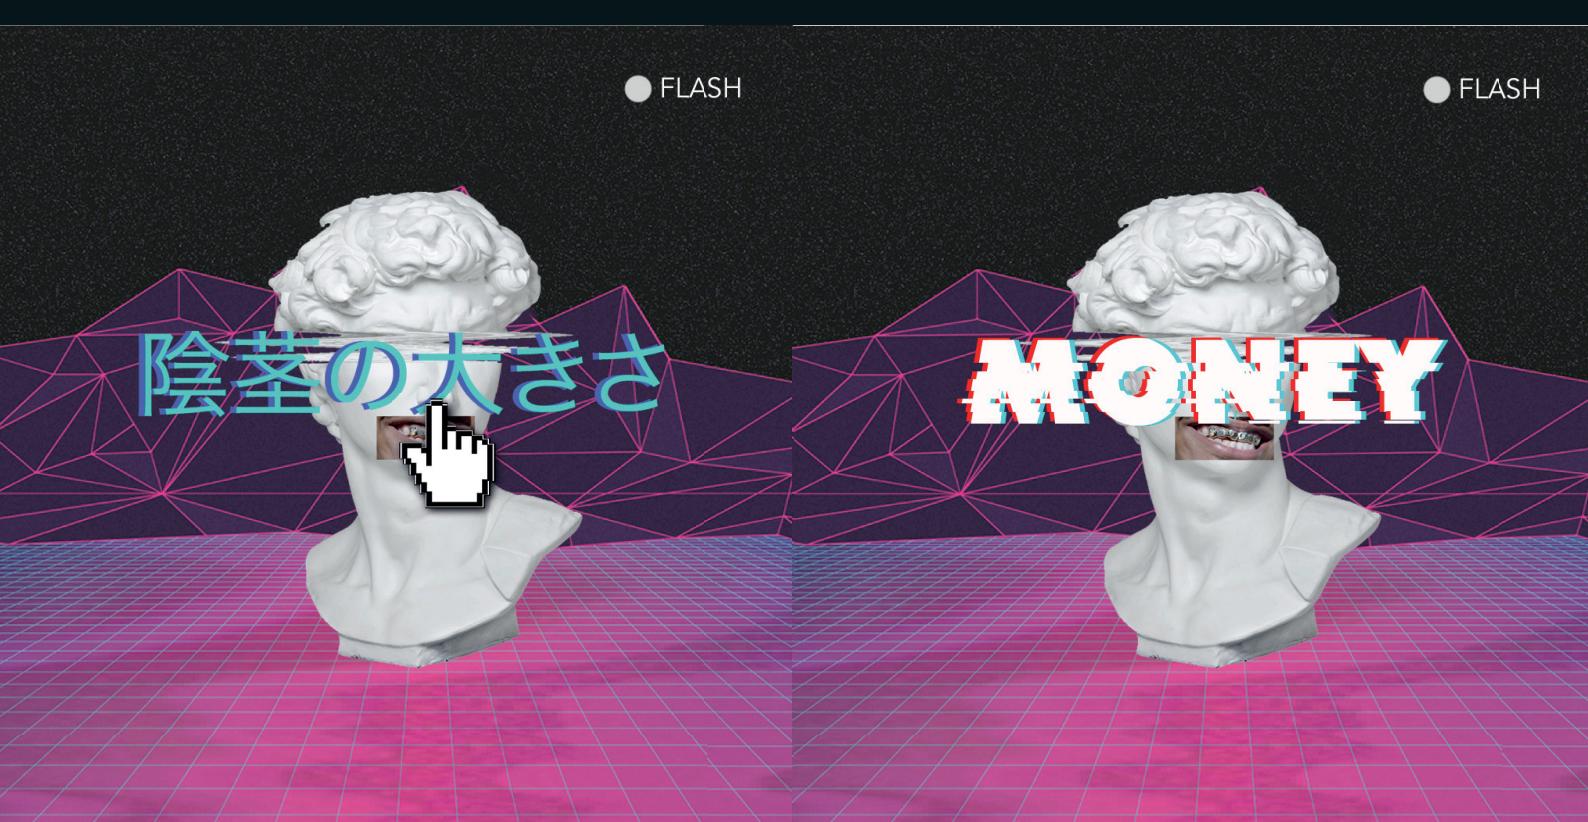

Aim of the site was to have some interaction with a click on mouse which changes the words/ images i created at random. With as well a button to make the text flash.

A computer monitor is centered against a black background. The monitor's screen displays a photograph of a dense green forest under a hazy, overcast sky. In the upper left quadrant of the screen, the words "THANK YOU" are printed in a white, sans-serif font, with a small exclamation mark positioned directly below the letter "U". The monitor has a thin black border and sits on a sleek, silver-colored stand.

THANK YOU
